Mr. Chas. J. Mohrle, 225 Dayton street, St. Louis, in speaking of his cure of catarrh and deafness and head noises, said: "From my personal experience of the Powell Institute treatment for catarrhal disease in its worst stage, including deafness and head noises, I must say that it seems to be marked by scientific precision and accuracy and by a remarkable degree of skill and intelligence. The treatment costs practically nothing, but notwithstanding the fact of its being so very inexpensive, its permanent cure is seen in the way it takes hold of the most stubborn and difficult disease and achieves not only its mastery, but its permanent cure. For seven years I have not been able to hear a watch tick. The treatment has been a wonderful success in my case. It has stopped the head noises and completely restored the hearing."

FOREIGNERS TESTIFY AGAINST FEIN.

Sam Roth and Frank Hecht Say He Induced Them to Get Naturalization Papers.

THREE YEARS IN COUNTRY.

Declare That Defendant on Trial in United States Court Offered Money to Them to Apply for Citizenship Rights.

The trial of Adolph Fein, former vice president of the Hebrew Branch of the Jefferson Club, charged with complicity in naturalization frauds, was begun yesterday in the United States District Court. Those who testified were: Judge Charles C. Bland, presiding Judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals; John H. Murphy, Clerk of the Court of Appeals; Sam Roth and Frank Hecht. The latter two testified that they could not speak English at the time their naturalization papers were issued. The services of an interpreter were necessary to obtain Roth's testimony.

United States Attorney D. P. Dyer conducted the prosecution. Judge Thomas H. Harvey represented Fein.

In the courtroom were: W. A. Morrow, assistant private secretary to Governor Dockery; John F. Deane, Frank Garrett and Thomas E. Barrett, charged with the same offense. Police Captain Boyd was also a spectator. His trial is set for next week. Colonel Dyer will proceed the cases against Policemen Jacob Kaplan and Joseph Fromson in order to use them as Government witnesses.

Assistant United States District Attorney Norton opened the case and stated briefly what the Government hoped to prove. He said that evidence before the Grand Jury showed that Fein had aided and abetted in procuring naturalization papers for minors and aliens.

Sam Roth was the first witness. Through the interpreter he testified that he was 23 years old and that he was three years a resident of the United States.

He said he took out naturalization papers at the solicitation of Fein, despite the fact that the law required one to have lived in the country five years. Witness said he met Fein in front of Sovner's saloon and that Fein asked him to take out papers, saying that he would pay the expenses. He also said that he had been told to tell the Judge that he had been in this country seven years and to call upon Fein.

JUDGE BLAND TESTIFIES.
Judge Bland was then placed on the stand. He testified that all the men taking out naturalization papers were duly sworn, including Fein and others who accompanied them in order to testify as to the time the candidates for citizenship papers had been residents of the United States.

Clerk John H. Murphy brought his books into court and explained the method of procedure in such cases.

Frank Hecht was next placed on the stand. He said he arrived in America from Russia on November 23, 1899, and applied for citizenship papers on October 6, 1902. He said he became acquainted with Fein in June, 1902, and that it was upon his advice that he went to the Court of Appeals and swore allegiance to the United States. Thirty others, he said, were taken to the court at the same time.

He testified that all the men taking out naturalization papers were duly sworn, including Fein and others who accompanied them in order to testify as to the time the candidates for citizenship papers had been residents of the United States.

He said that money had been given him on two occasions and he was told to get out of the city. He left the city, but returned.

Judge Adams adjourned court at 5 o'clock until 10 o'clock this morning. It is believed that the case will be ended today.

COMPANIES MAY ENFORCE ANTISUICIDE CLAUSE.
Judge Phillips Holds That Provision Is Valid When Entered Into by the Insured.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 3.—In a decision in the United States District Court here Judge John F. Phillips has held that insurance companies may enforce the anti-suicide clause where previously entered into by the insured.

The decision was in the case of James Whitfield, a well-known newspaper sporting editor, who killed himself. Whitfield was insured for $3,000, receiving a policy that contained a clause providing that if the insured should be recovered in case of suicide.

Although the statutes of Missouri declare that insurance companies may not make suicide a defense in refusing to pay policy, Judge Phillips held that "as the pleading of the contract in question voluntarily entered into by the parties goes merely to the question of recovery, and not to the question of a recovery, my conclusion is that the plaintiff is only entitled to recover the sum of $3,000."

BIDS FOR COMPLETING NEW CITY HALL ARE TOO HIGH.

Lowest Estimate of Contractors on Work Exceeds Appropriation by $4,000.

Bids for the work of completing the New City Hall were opened yesterday by the Board of Public Improvements and were found to be too high. The lowest was $124,000, which is $4,000 in excess of the appropriation.

To this amount must be added about $1,000 for architect's fees, which will make the cost so much in excess of the appropriation that, in the opinion of city officials, bids will be re-advertised for at the next meeting of the board.

Contractors stated that with the present high price of material and the unsettled labor conditions they were compelled to bid higher than they otherwise would.

One member of the board said that the contract could be let at the present figure if the contractor cared to depend upon a future additional appropriation sanctioned by the Municipal Council. This, it is thought, will not be done. Street Commissioner Varrelmann was present prominently of the meeting in the absence of President Phillips.

SENATOR COCKRELL AND THE PRESIDENCY.

W. J. Stone Says That Noted Missourian Would Make Available Timber.

The Republic Bureau, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, Nov. 2.—Senator Stone of Missouri was asked to-day as to the availability of Senator Cockrell as a presidential candidate. He said:

"There was a large and representative gathering of Democrats at Liberty recently, at which 5,000 or 6,000 were present. A resolution was passed unanimously that the State Convention should instruct the delegates to the National Convention to vote for Senator Cockrell for President, and I have no doubt that this will be done."

As to the suggestion that objection might be made to any ex-Confederate soldier, Senator Stone said that he thought that the time for that had passed, especially since the Cuban War.

"If a Republican President," he said, "could appoint ex-Confederates to be Brigadier Generals, into whose hands were intrusted the lives of our soldiers and the honor of the flag, it seems to me that the Republicans would be prevented from objecting if the Democrats should nominate an ex-Confederate Brigadier General to be Commander in Chief."

"Would Senator Cockrell be able to carry New York and other Eastern States?" asked the public correspondent. "I think so," said Governor Stone. "If any Democrat could do so."

He added that Senator Cockrell is a conservative man, a safe man and one who has had large experience in public affairs. He is known by the American people and would command their confidence.

Not Womanly to Suffer.
IDAVILLE, IND., April 25, 1903.
Painful menstruation made life a burden for me for over three years. I suffered untold misery at every menstrual period, not simply bearing down pains, but cuttings, gripings, colic, cramps, and at times convulsions, causing me to dread the time which I knew awaited me every month. In vain had I used a dozen remedies, and had but little faith in Wine of Cardui when my cousin advised me to take it.

You can little realize the joy which came over me as I gradually began to improve. Month by month the troubles were lessened. The scanty flow increased, and after four months' use of Wine of Cardui I was relieved from all pain and was perfectly well.

For the past nine months my periods have been regular to a day and with no pain attending them. This speaks for itself as to the value of Wine of Cardui, in my estimation.

Miss Dora Thomas.
THE REAL WOMAN IS THE WELL WOMAN. THE SICK WOMAN IS LESS THAN A REAL WOMAN. Sickness is no more a duty nor a necessity for a woman than for a man. Miss Thomas shows how "the untold misery" of painful menstruation and bearing down pains can be avoided by taking Wine of Cardui.

Wine of Cardui has cured many thousands of women who were in the same condition as Miss Thomas. This pure vegetable Wine, taken in the privacy of the home regulates disordered menstruation, which is the cause of bearing down pains, ovarian pains, convulsions, nervousness and hysteria. Wine of Cardui provides for a healthy and painless operation of menstruation at the proper intervals. And this important function becomes a healthful benefit instead of a dreadful torture.

The health Miss Thomas today enjoys was given her by Wine of Cardui. It is your privilege to secure health by the same treatment.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
